1,300 FARMERS AT FAIRGROUND PICNIC - MEETING

Thirteen hundred farmers from six counties jammed the Memorial auditorium at the South Mountain Fairgrounds Thursday for the fifth annual joint stockholders' meeting of the Carlisle Production Credit Association and National Farm Loan Association of York.

A feature of the session was the payment of the last $5,000 of the $150,000 borrowed by the local six-county Production Credit Association 20 years ago when it came into existence in Gettysburg. The $5,000 was repaid to the Production Credit Corporation of Baltimore by means of a huge, 2 1/2 by 5-foot check.

Roy H. Miller, president of the PCA, presented the check to William H. Miller, vice president of the Production Credit Corporation of Baltimore.

Burn Last Note
Upon receipt of the check, William Miller presented Roy Miller with the note that had been given to secure the loan in 1934. C. B. Musser, vice president of the local Production Credit Association, then struck a match to burn the last evidence of indebtedness by the association.

Payment of the last $5,000 makes the local PCA wholly farmer owned, officials said at the program.

Counsellors served by both the PCA and the National Farm Loan Association cooperatives include Adams, York, Franklin, Fulton, Cumberland and Perry and the 1300 present (Continued on Page 12)

PFC Marvin L. Warren, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warren, Fairfield, recently spent seven days in Japan on a rest and recuperation leave from the 338th Engineer Detachment in Korea.

Local Youth In Hanover Accident

A 17-year-old Gettysburg R. 5 driver was charged with reckless driving by Hanover police Wednesday afternoon after his car ran out of control and crashed into the porch of a home in the first block of Third St., Hanover.

Damage to the porch of the home, occupied by Edward J. Eckenrode, and owned by Robert Seitz, also of Hanover, was estimated by police at $125. A glider on the porch received $15 damage.

Police said John H. Huff Jr. had stopped at the Smith Motor Co. garage, 14 Third St., Hanover, for gas. As he was driving from the garage, the wheels of his car slipped on loose gravel, causing the vehicle to swing in a wide circle and crash into the porch.

There were about 95 feet of skid marks at the scene, police reported. Damage to Huff's auto was estimated at $35.

TENNIS SINGLES PLAY BEGINS; BROTHERS TIED

The postponed tennis singles tournament at the Recreation Park got under way Thursday evening with Dick Heintzelman and Robert Albright winning their matches in straight sets and a third contest between Rodney and Sidney Steinour called by darkness at the end of the second set.

Heintzelman beat Roland Bourdeau 6-0 and 6-2 but Albright had to play extra games to take his second set from Hugh M. McIlhenny. The score was 6-2 and 7-5. The Steinour brothers battled to a tie. Rodney, a Gettysburg High School junior, took the first set 6-2 but his freshman brother captured the second 6-4. Whether the match will be replayed or only the deciding third set will be run off has not been announced. Play in both the singles and doubles tournaments will be resumed next week.

McIlhenny took the lead Wednesday in the singles "ladder" tournament this week by beating Sidney Steinour in two sets out of three. He was defending his title today with final tournament playoffs being arranged by Luther L. Sachs Jr., recreation director.

Thursday evening's crowd was one of the largest of the season at the playground with the tennis tournament and the opening softball playoff game providing a double feature attraction.

ANTIQUE SHOW OPENS TODAY IN HOTEL ANNEX

The strange, the exotic, and the beautiful—from an early Victorian silver and porcelain swinging coffee pot to the horns of a crazed killer steer—are on display in the second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Antique Show which opened today in the Hotel Gettysburg annex.

The three-day show, featuring the exhibits of a number of antique dealers from several eastern states, will continue daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. today through Sunday. The admission is 50 cents for adults.

Thirteen antique dealers, including three members of the Gettysburg Antique Association, have booth space according to Donald B. Trone, general chairman.

The booths include one staffed by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce. It contains an eight-drawer old-fashioned spice chest. Proceeds from the sale of the chest will be given to the Jaycee "Santa Shanty" fund to purchase a Santa Claus Christmas outfit.

Have Door Prizes
The booth also displays various door prizes to be awarded ticket holders at the conclusion of each evening's show. Winners, who need not be present to receive the award, will be announced each evening.

Exhibits line the four walls of the annex, and stand back-to-back in the center of the floor. All articles displayed by the merchants are for sale within prices which range from an 18th Century toilet coffee urn selling for $50 to a $1 Wilkie button, and from $22 Kentucky long rifles to 50-cent boxes of Bronco Bill snuff.

Tilberg Article In Railroad Paper

The current issue of the "Reading Railroad Magazine" features an article entitled "Gettysburg in 1954" by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park Historian.

In his article Tilberg explains the attractions that annually draw more than 650,000 visitors to the battlefield. He cites the outstanding events during the year and the changing interests of tourists over the years.

The most interesting part of the article rests in Tilberg's answers to the perennial questions as to why Lee delayed his attack on Cemetery Hill and Culp's Hill and made his serious mistake in ordering Pickett's charge. The writer also takes up the question of whether Meade lost a great opportunity to end the war in the east by not pursuing Lee's retreating forces.

The article is accompanied by pictures of Soldiers' Monument, the Pennsylvania Monument, the strewing of flowers on the soldier dead by school children on Memorial Day, and the view from Little Round Top showing the statue of General G. K. Warren. Photographs were supplied by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Korean Film Will Be Shown Sunday

A sound film based on the Big Switch in Korea will be shown Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Poursquare Gospel Church, W. Middle St.

Photographed in color by UN war correspondent, Sidney Correll, the movie will be presented by the latter's father, "Dad" Correll, who accompanied his son through Korea last summer. The cinema portrays the tragedy which befell the children of Korea and the Christian work engaged in by American G.I.s.

Mr. Correll, editor of the Missionary Digest and director of the United World Nations, shows in his film how Operation Garbage Can helped the Koreans wherever there was an army encampment.

The public is invited. A silver offering will be received.

Boundaries Of Historic Manor Of Maske Marked On Lincoln Highway

Shown above is the sign erected at the eastern edge of town marking the eastern boundary of the Manor of Maske. An identical sign, was placed west of Seven Stars along the Lincoln Highway with the exception of a change in the inscription to indicate the western boundary. (Gettysburg Times photo)

Roadside markers indicating the approximate locations of the east and west boundaries of the historic Manor of Maske were erected on Wednesday east and west of Gettysburg by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

One marker is just east of the Rock Creek bridge on the Lincoln Highway and the other is about midway between McKnightstown and Seven Stars of the same highway.

Placing of the signs had been recommended by the Adams County Historical Society through its committee on Historical Sites.

Bought From Indians
Laid out more than 200 years ago by order of the Penns, the manor survey was delayed for years by land disputes and by the active opposition of the settlers and it was not until 1766 that the survey was completed and numbers of warrants for land within its borders were issued.

Land within its borders was bought by the Penns from the Indians in 1736 along with other vast acreages west of the Lower Susquehanna. Originally intended to contain 30,000 acres, the final survey covered 43,500 acres.

Surveyor Zachary Butcher tried to survey the manor in 1741 and the Pennsylvania Archives contain a letter he wrote about the "unreasonable creatures" that prevented it. His letter follows in part: "I was designed about two weeks ago (Continued on Page 6)

Here And There News Collected At Random

WHAT ARE THE MOST COMMON CRITICISMS OF ADVERTISING?
That advertising is misleading and that it hides the price of goods and services. There is some truth in the first accusation, but the trend is toward improvement. During the past 50 years, the progress toward truth in advertising has been tremendous. By far the majority of advertisers are truthful. The wild claims once made for patent remedies are rare today. Actually, advertising tends to purify itself. A product that doesn't live up to the ads eventually is washed out in the great public opinion poll of people who buy it.

Most notable, is the strong and effective effort of business itself to raise advertising standards. The Better Business Bureau promotes truthful advertising through its offices in 97 cities and with the cooperation of chambers of commerce in 700 other communities. Last year, the Better Business Bureau surveyed 24,372 ads, found 9,870 dubious and persuaded the advertisers to modify or eliminate 9,061. Voluntarily!

Other associations which have worked constantly over the years for higher advertising principles are: American Association of Advertising Agencies, Advertising Federation of America, Associated Business Papers, Inc., Newspaper Advertising Executives Association, Magazine Advertising Bureau, Outdoor Advertising Association of America and the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. ## Bandits Clean Out Vault At Andrews AFB; Get $160,000

CAMP SPRINGS, Md. (AP)—Three bandits "cleaned out" the vault of the Andrews Air Force Base branch bank today, escaping with an estimated $160,000.

Three Negroes were picked up for a "motor vehicle violation" near the base a short time later and held by police for questioning about the holdup.

Andrews field is about 10 miles southeast of Washington.

No Shooting
A stunned official of the parent First National Bank of Southern Maryland said there was about $160,000 in the vault, and "they cleaned it out."

There was no shooting, but an officer from the base said an unidentified airman was "roughed up." He was not classed as injured.

The bandits, all Negroes, entered the branch bank just a little after the bank opened at 9 a.m. Locked In Vault

They quickly herded the four employees, two of them women, into the vault and locked them in after picking up the money.

GIVE PLANS FOR TEST AIR RAID ALERT SUNDAY

The plan of operations for "Operation Wake-Up," the test air raid alert to be conducted Sunday afternoon in Mt. Holly Springs, has been announced by County Civil Defense Coordinator Dale E. Murphy.

The red alert signifying the presence of enemy planes in the area will be sounded at 12:56 o'clock in the afternoon, in Mt. Holly Springs, only. According to the plan, CD directors in communities throughout Cumberland County, as well as directors in cooperating communities in Adams, Dauphin and York Counties, will simulate receiving the yellow alert at 12:24 o'clock. Fire trucks, auxiliary police units, first-aid teams and other personnel and equipment, however, will not leave their home communities for Mt. Holly until 1:10 o'clock.

Speed Limit Set

The speed limit for vehicles enroute to Mt. Holly will be 45 miles an hour, and in that area, 20 miles an hour. Routes have been assigned to vehicles from each participating community.

Headquarters, assembly points and other designated locations have been announced as follows:

Headquarters, Mt. Holly Springs grade school, Chestnut and Church Sts.; first-aid station, VFW Hall, Chapel Ave.; emergency hospital, Mt. Holly Springs Band Hall, Butler St.; welfare, mass care center, EUB Church, Chestnut and Harmon Sts.; mass feeding center, Mt. Holly Springs ball field; police, Citizens Fire House, West Pine St.; transportation, Roy Gelsinger Coal Yard, Watt and Baltimore Sts., and fire equipment rendezvous points, Carlisle in-bound, the Galsinger Coal Yard, and Adams County in-bound, the Deer Lodge, Route 34.

Radio To Operate

Amateur radio operators will report to the main headquarters not later than 12:30 o'clock. Sound trucks will broadcast instructions to borough residents prior to the test alert.

The fire problem for "Operation Wake-Up" is to simulate that the water mains have been destroyed, with fires raging in the downtown area. Each fire company, as it is ordered in from the rendezvous points, will fall into line and lay its hose along the one-mile route from the emergency water supply to the disaster area. Ray Kelley, county fire adviser; Frank Frey Jr., county fire chief, and George Peterson, Mt. Holly fire chief, will coordinate their forces to accomplish these ends. John Murren, Adams County fire marshal, will assign travel routes and coordinate operations of apparatus from Adams County communities.

Several fire trucks will be standing by at all times, Murphy said, to answer actual fire calls from throughout the county or any place where help is needed. Local fire departments in need of help during the test should call the state police station in Carlisle, phone 780, which will relay the message by radio to the firemen in Mt. Holly.

The President and his family arrived at the camp from the White House late yesterday. Ike was accompanied on the drive from Washington by his wife and three grandchildren, David, 6; Barbara Ann, 5, and Susan, 2. The youngsters' parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, also made the trip.

FAILED TO GET DRIVER'S NAME

Damage amounted to $150 when a parked car was struck by another auto in Biglerville Thursday night, about 11 o'clock—and nobody thought to get the name of the driver of the car that caused the accident.

State police said the driver of the vehicle that smashed into the parked car of Purcell H. Bohrer, Gettysburg, as it was parked near the Biglerville National Bank apparently attempted to give information concerning his name and address, but no one made a record of it.

Bohrer had parked his car on the Main St. side of the Biglerville intersection earlier Thursday night to travel in another car to a meeting in Carlisle.

About 11 o'clock the Maryland auto, with its driver and two male passengers, came through the borough. The Maryland autoist came up too quickly upon another car which had stopped for a traffic light and in attempting to avoid collision with the car ahead, swerved to the west and struck the left door and fender of the parked vehicle.

The three men got out of their car, waited for someone to appear, then went to a restaurant and talked to everyone they could find apparently in an attempt to locate the owner of the parked auto. After a 45-minute wait, they took the license number of Bohrer's car and continued on their way.

Police hope they get in touch with them today. In the meantime police are seeking the name of the driver through the license number of the Maryland car which was remembered by one of the spectators.

The same dates hold for the receiving station at Red Lion, and hours are from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

TEN GIRLS IN PEACH QUEEN CONTEST HERE

The number of Adams County teen-agers who will compete Saturday for the title of county "Peach Queen" has increased to 10. Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, general chairman for the event, reported today.

Tenth contestant is Miss Jane Keller of Bendersville, who will join the Misses Janice E. Sanders, Fairfield R. 1; Patricia A. All of the young women will bring peach desserts which they are baking today and Saturday morning to the Adams Electric Cooperative building, rear of N. Stratton St., Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. There judges will make the selection to determine which of the ten will be the county queen and compete with queens from other counties for the state title.

Two Judges Chosen

There will be no cooking or baking at Saturday's event. The winner however will have to be prepared to make the article in the presence of judges at the state contest.

Selected as judges so far for the Adams County event are Miss Louise Halbach, home economics supervisor for the York County schools, and Mrs. Mary Kelso, assistant home economics extension representative from Cumberland County.

The group of women previously listed incorrectly as Judges Thursday are actually members of Mrs. Griest's committee for the event. They include Mrs. Nelson Weber and Mrs. Glenn Slaybaugh, both of Biglerville; Mrs. Roy Tate, Gettysburg; Mrs. B. E. Benner, Fairfield; Mrs. Ryland Garretson, Bendersville, and Mrs. John Wilson, Flora Dale.

COUNTIAN SAYS HE DRANK, DOZED BEFORE FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

A Virginia truck driver was absolved Wednesday by a Franklin County coroner's jury of blame for the death of Mrs. Paye Smith, 45, Chambersburg, in a traffic accident early June 5 on the Lincoln Highway close to the eastern junction with the Fayetteville Rd.

Mrs. Smith was riding in an auto driven by Roger Alleman, 38, of Orrtanna R. 2, when it collided with a tractor-trailer truck driven by Lema Marion Stull, 29, Eagle Rock, Va., R. 2.

The jury in relieving Stull of blame found that Mrs. Smith's death resulted from the Alleman car leaving its own lane of traffic and plowing into the side of the truck.

Admits He Dozed

Interrogated by Dr. C. P. Brink, acting coroner, at the inquest held at the Sellers Funeral Home, Chambersburg, Alleman stated frankly that he fell asleep at the wheel and added that "I don't remember anything after that until I came to in the hospital on Thursday"—five days afterwards.

Still on crutches because of injuries suffered in the truck-auto crash, Alleman admitted he had consumed three bottles of beer during the evening spent with Mrs. Smith at Gettysburg, with stops at roadside taverns to and from Gettysburg. He asserted that he was "not drunk."

Later Pfc. Ray Haas of the state police, investigator of the accident, testified he had established that Alleman drank five bottles of beer and one glass of draught beer between 10 p.m. June 4, and 1:30 a.m. June 5, the approximate time of the accident.

SWEETHEARTS IN COLLEGE WED AFTER 51 YEARS

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—They tell in love while students at Pennsylvania State College—a typical campus romance and next week they're getting married.

But here's what is not so typical—51 years separate their college days and the culmination of the romance in marriage.

The 74-year-old sweethearts are Mrs. Mae Getz Hutton, born in Lemont, Pa., and J. Harvey Fahnestock, a native of Harrisburg, Pa.

"My father didn't think much of Mr. Fahnestock when we were in college, but I must say he admitted later that Harvey turned out to be a fine man," Mrs. Hutton said.

Both Married Before

After college she married George E. Hutton and they lived in Plattsburgh, N.Y. Hutton died in 1946. Mrs. Hutton has a son and a daughter.

Fahnestock, who became a Bell Telephone executive in Philadelphia and is now retired, also married. His wife died last year. They had no children.

He and Mrs. Hutton corresponded occasionally in the intervening years. He flew here Wednesday night from his home in Clearwater, Fla. They will be married Tuesday noon at the Holy Faith Episcopal Church, Inglewood. Hutton will be given away by her son, Virgil, who will be 44 on Tuesday.

They will fly to Clearwater Tuesday night.

FRANK EDWARDS DROPPED ON AIR

George Meany says Frank Edwards has been dropped as the federation's radio reporter because he mixed opinion and interpretation with the news, but Edwards accuses Meany of censoring the broadcasts for personal gain.

Meany told a news conference yesterday that Edwards submitted his resignation after this week—to be effective Dec. 31—but that the AFL Executive Council exercised its opinion under the contract to end Edwards' services last Wednesday.

Meany contended that Edwards omitted "the stuff he wasn't interested in" and lumped "news and opinion together without saying which was which."

In Washington, Edwards said Meany imposed "without my agreement a strict censorship of my selection and use of news material."

Meany said "opinion should be clearly labeled as opinion and interpretation."

Harry Flannery, former Columbian now on the AFL staff, has replaced Edwards for the time being.

SENATE WORKS ON FARM BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees returned today to the job of trying to wrestle to completion a compromise farm bill, with the White House pressing anew for a bill to the administration's liking.

Nearly a dozen minor differences between Senate and House bills were settled yesterday. But the big controversies, underscored by President Eisenhower, still lay ahead.

In letters to Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Rep. Hope (R-Kan.), chairmen of Senate and House Agriculture Committees, Eisenhower asked the conferees to drop out of the final bill House-passed provisions affecting price supports for dairy products and wheat.

Barring a stalemate on these controversial issues, Aiken told newsmen there was a possibility the conferees could finish by tonight, after just two days of closed-door deliberations. Earlier, however, he said he had not ruled out the chance of a deadlock.

Accuses FCC Of Lack Of Fair Play

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has been accused of showing "open defiance of the rules of fair play" in the question of whether to renew Edward Lamb's license for a television station at Erie, Pa.

The protest was made by J. Howard McGrath, former attorney general in the Truman administration, who has been employed by Lamb to represent him.

The renewal has been held up pending an inquiry by the FCC, which said it received information that Lamb has been a member of the Communist party.

Lamb has repeatedly denied he was ever a Communist.

4,500 ATTEND ADAMS COUNTY FAIR THURSDAY

With 4,500 present for Thursday night's events, the number attending the Adams County Fair, located midway between Abbottstown and East Berlin, so far this week now totals 11,500, officials of the fair reported today.

Expecting a curtailed horticulture display because of the drought, fair officials said they have been surprised by the exceptionally large number of exhibits in the department. Attracting most attention have been a number of very large potatoes. Fair attendants have been busy answering two questions concerning the potatoes: "Are they Adams county potatoes?" which they are, and "Were they irrigated?" which they were not.

More than 1,427 fowl are entered in the poultry division, completely filling the new poultry house at the fair, and a very large display of water fowl has been placed outside the building in wire pens because of inability to house them inside the structure.

Livestock exhibits were reported as doubled this year and officials also said some art and penmanship displays had to be rejected because the building assigned to that department was filled to capacity. The farm implement division was also described as "considerably larger this year" and the midway is larger than last year. A list of winners of premiums in the judging of the various exhibits is to be announced Saturday.

Dusty Owens and the Rodeo Boys, along with Abbie Neal and the Ranch Girls will appear tonight. The entertainers are a Saturday night attraction on Saturday nights over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Took Honeymoon On Stolen Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—A teenage couple who went on a honeymoon spree with $5,800 stolen from the bride's father have been charged with grand larceny — although the father says he's willing to forgive and forget.

Harvey J. Wurtzberger and the former Deborah Ann Fine, both 16 and of the Bronx, eloped Aug. 3 and were picked up three days later in Washington, D.C.

Admittedly financed by money taken from the safe of Deborah's father, movie theater manager David Fine, the couple bought a new $4,000 convertible, ran up a $208 hotel bill, and lavished considerable sums on night-clubbing and exorbitant tips.

Deborah's father refused to sign a complaint but the district attorney's office stepped into the case and arrested the young couple yesterday.

casters. The American Medical Association, and Printer's Ink, the advertising trade publication, have also done an outstanding job.

In addition, advertising is regulated by a number of government agencies, particularly the Federal Trade Commission, which combats false and misleading ads.

The complaint that advertising raises prices is least justified. Advertising helps to create mass markets which make possible mass production, greatly reducing prices. Often, the advertising cost per unit of a widely sold product is surprisingly small. On a package of cigarettes, for example, it is less than a half cent—far below the taxes. Constant research by advertising agencies tends to eliminate advertising that does not pay and so reduces costs. Good values at reasonable prices encourages volume. Advertising is an aid to increased volume. So, while a cost of business, its net effect may reduce total unit costs.

Approve Changes In Coal Fires Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has concurred in Senate amendments to a bill to authorize the federal government to engage in the control and extinguishing of coal formation fires.

The bill, which now goes to the

Today's Talk

VISITING FRIENDS
There is one thing about an island and its long distance from home, and it's this: Invited friends are so welcome there. It's different from living in the city, where you can be easily reached. A telephone call is sufficient to arrange a happy evening or an overnight visit.

Here at Weskewanaak, my island retreat during the summer, visits from friends are planned ahead, and all sorts of data are furnished to make the journey worth while. The meeting and the brief boat trip to the island is an event in itself.

We get acquainted all over again with friends that we have known for years, for being isolated upon an island cements people in mind and heart. There is a freedom and relaxation that possesses one quietly and quickly. You converse happily, eat with greater relish, and sleep soundly, absolved from all traffic, except that silent sort that we think about as we view the stars before our rest for the night.

Our closest neighbors on our island are the great pines and hemlocks that have been here already far longer than any of us can hope to be. A kind friend arranged a small flower garden in front of my lodge, and frequently a hummingbird will light its delicate bill into some flower, and then fly speedily away. How did he or she know that there was a little garden here in the thick woods?

Happy as it is to welcome friends to our vacation's natural paradise, it's sad when they leave. The thought comes over us that we really never knew them so well, and we wish that they could stay longer. There has been talk of people, books, countries, and mutual friends. We have explored our lake with our boat. We have had our swims. And it has all been stimulating and enriching.

And now I go back to my talks and my typewriter. My visiting friends have gone. I miss them, but something strangely beautiful, like an aroma, remains! In my heart I bless their memory.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Trees"

25,500 RUBBER WORKERS STRIKE IN EIGHT CITIES

CLEVELAND (AP) — The rubber industry's second major strike erupted across the nation today as 25,500 CIO United Rubber Workers walked off their jobs at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants in eight cities.

Union officials, who called a strike of 23,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. workers last July 7, triggered the action against Firestone to coincide with their contract's midnight deadline.

Together the two actions put more than 48,000 rubber workers — a third of the industry's union members — on strike.

Talks between company and union negotiators continued until almost the last minute.

A union spokesman said Firestone failed to agree with the rubber workers "on anything even approaching favorable provisions for a new contract."

Company officials issued a statement which declared:

"Everyone Will Suffer"
"There is nothing to be gained by this action and everyone concerned will suffer a serious loss."

The union posted pickets around most entrances to Firestone plants in Akron, Los Angeles, Noblesville and New Castle, Ind., Fall River, Mass., Memphis, Des Moines and Pottstown, Pa.

About 250 pickets turned back the midnight shift at the Akron factories, which employ 9,000 workers. Goodyear has 13,000 striking employees there.

At Firestone's Pottstown plant, which has 2,000 production workers, picketing started at 10:15 last night, and the 11 o'clock shift did not report for work. The union said only necessary maintenance workers could pass the lines.

In Fall River, Mass., where Firestone employs 2,100 workers, a picket line began moving at 10 o'clock. About 1,900 persons are employed at the Des Moines factory, where a union spokesman said he was "very reluctant to take strike action," as pickets ringed the factory at midnight. In Los Angeles 20 union members began picketing the plant where 3,100 workers are employed.

No disorders were reported.

BIG DOPE RING IS SMASHED

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal narcotics agents have smashed an alleged multi-million-dollar dope smuggling ring, climaxing 11 months of undercover work by some 30 agents who played roles of addicts or dealers in heroin.

The 14 men seized in the roundup, announced yesterday, were described as "top flight narcotics dealers in the United States" by James C. Ryan, district supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

Ryan said all the men arrested dealt in heroin and that the ring's yearly profits "ran into the millions."

He termed the roundup the largest ever made here of bigtime drug dealers and added:

"If there is not a panic among the dope dealers in New York City after this, then I give up."

Ryan said the ring had "a common source of supply in Mexico City and Montreal" and that the 14 men "had a definite traffic with

Giants And Brooklyn Open Important Series Tonight; Threatening Braves Move Up

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The New York Giants may find out tonight whether luck is still on their side.

They invade Brooklyn for three games with the second place Dodgers and the way both teams have been playing, luck will go a long way in determining the outcome.

Neither New York nor Brooklyn has been a ball of fire in recent weeks. They've stayed 1-2 in the National League pennant chase mainly by default.

Now the Milwaukee Braves are creeping up. Many more mistakes by either of the first two clubs could prove fatal.

Giants Lead Series

So far the Giants have held most of the trumps in their showdowns with their metropolitan rivals. They've won 9 of the 13 games and lead the Dodgers by 3½ lengths. Six of the remaining nine games will be played in Brooklyn, three in the last week of the season.

Pans have been ganging up on the Brooklyn box office but the managers remain stranglely silent. Neither Leo Durocher nor Walt Alton has gone so far as to predict a sweep.

Durocher even has been hesitant in picking a pitcher. For two seasons Sal Maglie has been the automatic choice to open any series with Brooklyn. But the aging right-hander was whipped in the Giants' last trip across the river and Leo has notions of using Robin Gomez tonight with Maglie waiting for tomorrow's sunshine. Carl Erskine definitely will go for the Dodgers tonight.

Had Day Of Rest

The clubs should be rested. They both had the day off yesterday. Milwaukee took advantage of their idleness and moved within 6½ games of the top and within three games of Brooklyn by beating St. Louis 3-1. Cincinnati whipped Chicago 8-6 in the only other National League action.

The New York Yankees picked up half a game on Cleveland by winning a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics 5-4 and 7-1. But the Indians trounced Detroit 10-1 and still lead by 2½ games. Boston and Washington split. The Senators won the first game 9-5 but were shutout by Frank Sullivan in the second 5-0. Baltimore and Chicago weren't scheduled.

Philadelphia made the Yanks work for the first game, coming from behind twice to tie before Mickey Mantle decided matters in the eighth with his 25th home run.

Boxing, Senators Split

Four runs in the first inning, including a lead off homer by Hank Bauer, sewed up the nightcap in a hurry.

The Indians pounded three Detroit pitchers for 13 hits including Al Rosen's three-run homer, his first into the seats this month. Rosen, deep in a slump, has hit safely only three times in his last 44 at bats. Bob Lemon coasted to his 16th victory.

Jackie Jensen hit his 19th homer for the Red Sox in their first game loss to Washington and was the batting star of the Boston victory in the second game as he drove in two runs and scored a pair.

Spahn In Top Form

Lefty Warren Spahn, who has had trouble winning this season, was in top form for the Braves against the Cardinals. He threw a six-hitter, struck out seven and walked nobody. In winning their sixth straight and their 17th in their last 19 outings, the Braves bunched all of their runs in the fourth inning on an error, two singles, a double by Andy Pafko and a long foul fly. The loss was the fifth in a row for St. Louis.

Cincinnati moved within 2½ games of the first division with its second straight power victory over the Cubs. The Redlegs ran their home run total to eight in two days with blasts by Ted Kluszewski, Jim Greengrass and Wally Post. A triple by Kluszewski drove in the winning runs.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Schenectady's Cliff Ross, with four of his 11 victories at Allentown's expense, keeps the Redbirds hollering uncle in the battle for the Eastern League basement.

The Schenectady lefty flipped a five-hitter last night to blank the visiting Redbirds, 4-0 in the regulation nightcap of a doubleheader. Johnny Anderson tamed the Birds on six hits for a 3-1 triumph in the opener.

Wilkes-Barre crept within 1½ games of league-leading Elmira with a twin-win at home over Albany, 2-0 and 3-2, while the Pioneers lost at Reading, 3-1. Williamsport whipped host Binghamton, 6-2.

90,000 TO SEE DETROIT LIONS AND ALL-STARS

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars meet the Detroit Lions at Soldier Field tonight in the first big game of the 1954 football season with a crowd of 90,000 expected. Gross receipts will reach $450,000, mostly going to charity.

The collegians have a fair chance to get their seventh victory in 21 games because they have first rate passers and because the lions will be handicapped by playing under college rules. The Lions, however, remain one touchdown favorites.

Jim Tatum of Maryland, coach of the nation's No. 1 college team last fall, will probably start Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback for the All-Stars. Bratkowski completed 360 passes out of 734 attempts for 4,663 yards and 24 touchdowns in three years at Georgia. Backing him up are Cotton Davidson, Baylor; Bobby Garrett, Stanford; Lamar McHan, Arkansas; and Vince Dooley, Auburn, all top-notch passers.

May Save Parker

The Lions, champions of the National Football League, have a great passer in Bobby Layne, but coach Buddy Parker may save him for the regular season and depend on Tom Dubinski. Furthermore, the Lions must use their men on both offense and defense whereas pro football is still playing two platoons and liking it. Needless to say the Lions are unhappy.

Coach Parker faced up to the problem of creating an all-around, one platoon squad out of his two platoon specialists by using his regular offensive line — which will average 238 pounds — in front of a patched backfield that includes, besides Dubinski, Doak Walker, Jack Christiansen and Lewis Carpenter.

On Radio, TV

Tatum has created a backfield to support Bratkowski by teaming his own Chester Hanulak with Notre Dame's Johnny Latner and Neil Warden. In all the collegians will start three men from Maryland and three from Notre Dame.

The game, which starts at 8:30 p.m. EST will go to 570 radio stations on the WGN-Mutual network, and to 164 television stations on the DuMont network, the biggest TV coverage ever. Net proceeds go to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

LITTLE LEAGUE SEMI-FINALS OPEN TODAY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The top four Little League teams of Pennsylvania today squared off in semi-final games to decide opponents for the championship.

Masontown and Sto-Ken-Rocks, facing each other in the last of two games today, won their semi-final battles yesterday on extra base hitting in closing innings.

West Union and Camp Hill, first game opponents, won their semi-final posts Wednesday.

In an extra inning contest yesterday, Masontown scored once in the last half of the seventh inning to cap a stirring comeback with a 5-4 victory over Kennett Square-Avonvale-Unionville.

Masontown's Dick Albani scored on leftfielder Jack Yakubik's line double for the winning tally.

K-A-U had taken a 4-0 lead on Masontown with two home runs, one with two men on base, in the first inning. Second baseman Dave Blake rapped the three-run homer.

Pitcher Raps Homer

Masontown got the range in the fifth when winning pitcher Bill Fronczek socked a home run over the right field fence. A bases-loaded single by Yakubik scored another to make it 4-2.

In the sixth Ed Verbois and Fronczek smashed a home run over the right field fence, but Wilkes-Barre's Al Harcarik tied it in the fifth with another two-run homer. They had scored previously on a walk, an error and a bunt single by Greg Skrepnek.

With two out and the game tied in the fifth, Rudison won his own ball game with a second home run.

The average age of the Baltimore Orioles, newest team in the American League, is 27½ years.

James C. McKeon, a native of Elizabeth, N. J., has been appointed head coach of track and soccer at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., to succeed Frank Appichella who has resigned to take a coaching position at Wheaton High School.

McKeon, who won four varsity letters in basketball and co-captained the team in 1952 and 1953, was graduated from the Mount in 1953. Last year he taught at Emmitsburg High School where he coached soccer and helped with basketball and baseball.

While at Mount St. Mary's McKeon also captained the cross country team in 1952 and starred with the track team during his freshman and sophomore years.

Phelan Head Coach

In the new athletic set-up Jim Phelan, former La Salle cage star, will boss both the basketball team and the baseball teams, and direct intramural and physical education participation. McKeon will carry the bulk of phys ed work and guide the booters and trackmen.

McKeon is married and the father of three children. He lives near the college.

FREDERICK MAY QUIT BABE RUTH LOOP IN FUSS

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Officials of the Maryland Babe Ruth Baseball League, protesting the "disgraceful" handling of the Region 2 playoff at Clarksburg, W. Va., threatened today to drop from the league if Clarksburg is allowed to play in the loop's national "World Series" in Washington next week.

Theron D. Green, president of the Frederick Babe Ruth League, Inc., in a strongly worded letter to Joseph Cookson of New York, the league's national chairman, said New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania probably also would quit the league if Clarksburg represents the region.

Green said his group is not protesting Frederick's 15-10 loss to Clarksburg in the finals, but the manner in which the regional tournament was conducted. Regional officials were not available for comment.

Green complained that regional officials: 1. Permitted a Clarksburg pitcher to pitch two games in succession, when league rules say a pitcher may go to the mound only once a week.

2. Permitted use of a major league regulation ball instead of the standard Babe Ruth ball.

3. Switched the times of the games without proper notice.

4. Used Clarksburg area umpires exclusively.

Fans Abused

He also said Frederick fans in the stands were subject to constant abuse during the game and were the targets of pebbles and other missiles.

Green said he formally protested in a letter to Cookson Tuesday and in a phone conversation Wednesday night was told by the league chairman that his protest and those of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York were not valid. He followed up with a letter yesterday in which he said Frederick would drop Babe Ruth ball if Clarksburg plays in national tournament.

Green said Cookson had agreed to hear the protests in a formal session at the Willard Hotel in Washington Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

York Springs Wins 5-2 Over Carlisle

Centerville went on a three-run binge in the top of the fourth inning Thursday then staved off a determined Carlisle bid to hang up a hard-fought 5-4 Bi-County League victory. York Springs got tight three-hit pitching from Paul Slaybaugh to down Carlisle, 5-2, in the only other game reported.

Leroy Beam spaced nine Newville hits, walked three and fanned as many to post the triumph. Herb Johnson and reliever Cy Whitcomb were nicked for a combined total of nine safeties with the former being tagged with the setback.

96 PROS MATCH PAR IN PLAY AT TAM O'SHANTER

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The "world" championship at Tam O'Shanter, paying the winner $50,000 in cash and a guaranteed $50,000 exhibition contract, today was off to one of the most fantastic starts in golf tournament history.

With Earl Stewart Jr.'s 65 the best effort, 54 of the 96 pros matched or bettered Tam's standard 36-36-72 in yesterday's first round. It was one of the biggest uprisings against par ever recorded in a major golf tournament.

"Let 'em shoo for it," said Matt Niesen, president of Tam O'Shanter and chairman of the rules committee, "let 'em have fun."

In yesterday's opening action the bigshots hit the warpath with a wild gleam.

At the present rate Byron Nelson's 72-hole Tam record of 269-19 under par—set in 1945 appeared in jeopardy and the $10,000 extra prize for breaking Lloyd Mangrum's course record of 63 carved in 1948 may even go down the drain.

Stewart, of Dallas, whose last tourney victory was in the Ardmore Open 16 months ago, appeared like an innocent bystander in a terrific jam as he set out to protect his lead. The red-haired, former National Intercollegiate champion from Louisiana State, posted his dazzling 30-35-65 early as the barrier was sprung yesterday, then dared anyone to come close.

Other Scores
Walter Burkemo, the 1953 National PGA champion and runner-up this year, blazed home in 66. Johnny Palmer, Bob Toski and Dutch Harrison caught the money scent for 67's. Seven shared 68's—Henry Ransom, Dave Douglas, Britten Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Shelley Mayfield, Sam Snead, Claude Harmon and Jim Turnesa.

On the rack at 69 were Porky Oliver, Jack Burke, Belgian Flory Van Donck and such unheralded sharpshooters as Mike Souchak and Bill Ogden.

Grouped at 70 were 11 marksmen, including Doug Ford, Tam's All-American champion Jerry Barber, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

Even the women were having a picnic with par. Patty Berg took aim in the $12,000 women's pro bracket with a blistering 69 to match Babe Zaharias' competitive course record set last week in the Tam All-American.

TWO LEAGUES NEAR END OF SEASON TILTS

Both the South Penn and the Pen-Mar Baseball Leagues will be nearing the home stretch Sunday when the two leagues play a scheduled eight games.

For the South Penn contestants it will be the next to last of the regularly scheduled games; for the Pen-Mar group three regularly scheduled series of games remain to be played after Sunday.

In the South Penn the games during the next two weeks will determine positions two through six. So close are the contestants in that loop that anything can happen despite the closeness of the end of the season.

While Mummaburg has clinched the regular season championship in the South Penn League, Wensville, in second place, is only a half game ahead of third place Taneytown. Taneytown is only a half game in front of fourth place Greenmount. Greenmount is tied with Bonneauville for fourth spot and sixth-place Brushtown, with three games to play because of a postponement could—if it gets every possible break—wind up in second instead of sixth place.

Four Games To Play
With four games still to be played in the Pen-Mar League any one of five teams could wind up in the top spot, but the bottom team would have to win all four games and the top team would have to lose all four to permit that result.

Blue Ridge Summit is a full game ahead of second place Fairfield. Fairfield is two games ahead of New Oxford and New Oxford is a game ahead of both Emmitsburg and Cashtown, who are tied for the fourth place in the standing.

In Sunday's South Penn games Wensville will be at Harney, Bonneauville at Hunterstown, Mummaburg at Brushtown and Taneytown at Greenmount.

In the Pen-Mar circuit Thurmont will be at Cashtown, Blue Ridge Summit at Emmitsburg, New Windsor at Fairfield and New Oxford at Union Bridge.

In a benefit contest played between two teams of the two leagues Wednesday Union Bridge, of the Pen-Mar League, defeated Taneytown of the South Penn, 5 to 0 in a benefit game on the Taneytown diamond. The game was stated for Wilbur "Pete" Stout, former manager of the Union Bridge squad who has been in ill health for some time.

Elks Defeat Texas Lunch In First Tilt Of Series For Softball Loop Title

The Elks whipped Texas Lunch 7 to 2 Thursday evening before a large crowd at Recreation Field in the first of the series of games between the two squads to determine the championship of the Community Softball League. The second game will be played Monday.

Bill Knox, Ed Carbaugh and Bobby Rohrbaugh, of the underdog Elks squad contributed to the big upset as they each collected a pair of hits with Rohrbaugh blasting a triple with a man on base. Heintzelman, Ken and George Fair and Kitzmiller rapped out the four Lunchmen's safeties.

Texas Lunch got off to a fast start, pushing a run across in the first frame. Heintzelman singled, Kenny Fair sacrificed, a fielder's choice by Timbers and a sacrifice fly to right field secured the tally. Manager Charley Woodward's Elks knotted the score in the same inning when Knox led off with a single and came all the way home on Rohrbaugh's safety to deep center.

Elks Pull Ahead

The Elks pulled ahead in the third as Carbaugh took first on an infield error after two men were retired. Rohrbaugh then uncorked his second hit to center field for a triple and drove in his second run of the game. Texas Lunch, fighting back desperately, picked up a run in the sixth to knot the count at 2-2. A lead-off triple by George Fair followed by a lashing single to right field by Bob Kitzmiller produced the run.

The Elks, keeping an eye on their tough opponents, got down to business and tallied five runs in the bottom of the sixth to put the game on ice. An outfield miscue placed Saunders on second while an infield error put Schmitt on first. A sacrifice fly by Kurtz started the rally. Consecutive singles by Gorman, Baker, and Knox produced three more runs as Kane unleashed a long fly ball to center field to bring in the fifth run.

Joe Kurts allowed only four hits, and walked three to receive the win. Clarence Bartholomew gave up ten scattered hits and knocked out one, in taking the loss.

Farm Experts In Session To Consider Drought Emergency Action In 21 Damaged Areas

HARRISBURG (AP)—A committee of state and federal farm experts came to Harrisburg today to decide if a drought emergency should be declared for hard-hit southeastern Pennsylvania counties.

At hand for committee action were reports from 21 drought-stricken counties showing crop damages that were "much worse" than expected.

The State Agriculture Department said crop losses during July were estimated at more than 20 million dollars for corn, hay, potatoes, tobacco and vegetables.

And the situation appeared to be worsening, warned C. E. Cassell, committee chairman and head of the U. S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee for the commonwealth.

Prime problem facing the committee was whether Pennsylvania farmers would have enough feed supplies for livestock to carry them through the winter.

Used Winter Supplies
Cassell said most reports indicated that at least 50 per cent of winter feed supplies have been used, while plantings for late hay harvesting had been burned out.

Taking the severest beating during July from the prolonged dry spell was corn. The State Agriculture Department estimated that $11,517,000 in corn crop losses had been suffered by farmers, especially in the southeastern counties.

Hay losses were placed at $2,900,000 and potatoes suffered damages amounting to $2,260,000. The department said the potato crop would probably be smaller than last year's all-time low.

Under study by the committee were reports from Adams, Berks, Bucks, Chester, Carbon, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Franklin, Lehigh, Lebanon, Lancaster, Northampton, Northumberland, Montgomery, Monroe, Perry, Pike, Philadelphia, Schuylkill and York counties.

All Counties Suffered
However, Cassell declared that nearly all of the commonwealth's 67 counties have suffered to some degree from dry conditions.

Serving on the committee with Cassell are E. B. Angle, acting director of the Farm Home Administration; D. O. Boster, chief statistician for the U. S. Agriculture Department Crop Reporting Service in Pennsylvania and Richard Gerstlitz, state civil defense director.

Seek State Actions
In emergency drought situations the U. S. government provides these courses of aid:

1. A federal-state co-operative hay distribution program.
2. Undertake an emergency feed and grain program, using government surplus stores.

A third aid, already available, is the securing of farmers home administration loans to help producers meet credit needs for feed

Eisenhower Backs Three Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has given his blessing to three Pennsylvania candidates for House seats on the understanding they are backing his legislative program.

They are: W. Beverly Carter Jr., of the 4th Congressional District; Albert Clardi of the 2nd District; and Francis McCusker of the 5th District.

The three were included in a presidential endorsement yesterday of 18 Republican candidates for House seats. It was the first endorsement given to candidates who are not yet members of Congress.

All have been backed by GOP organizations in their home districts and by the Citizens for Eisenhower. Their pictures were taken with the President as a group and individually.

and other costs.
Meanwhile, there was mounting pressure from farm groups calling for state action to overcome some of the effects of the drought.

Gov. Pine received and passed on to the committee a telegram from the Eastern Milk Producers Co-operative Assn., Inc., urging that an emergency be declared.

Due to damage to pastures and hay crops, dairymen have been among the groups hurt most by the drought.

"We believe that any amount of rain in August or September will not undo the damage already done," J. Thomas Cribbs, Poyntelle, Wayne County, president of the association said in the telegram.

The organization represents some 3,200 dairymen in Wayne, Lackawanna, Bradford, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Sullivan counties.

Cribbs declared that drought and insect damage had reached "staggering proportions."

During the middle ages, fur was used principally in male rather than in female garments.

OPPOSES SALES TAX
LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—Miss Genevieve Blatt, Democratic nominee for secretary of internal affairs, contends that Pennsylvania women are united in opposing the commonwealth's one per cent sales tax.

"When political issues of this kind cut across the economy of the average family, they (women) are going to go to the taproot of the problem and vote against the political party responsible," she said in an address last night.

Passenger Train Hits Car; 1 Killed

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP)—One woman was killed and three other persons hurt last night when their car was hit by a Lehigh Valley Railroad passenger train at a grade crossing near here.

Dead was Mrs. Edna Jacquish, 66, of Calif. Her 40-year-old son, Roy, was injured and taken to Hunterdon Medical Center where his condition was reported as serious.

Also hurt were Roger Beam, 19, of Calif., and his 10-year-old sister, Jean. Jean was released from the hospital after treatment.

The engineer of the train was Frank Nicholas of Lehigh, Pa. Scene of the accident was the crossing at the Hamden-Sunnyside road about five miles north of here.

During the middle ages, fur was used principally in male rather than in female garments.

11 MEN, WOMEN ARE ARRESTED ON DOPE COUNTS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Eleven men and women were held today on narcotics charges after a series of police raids.

The raids yesterday followed three months of undercover work by police on federal, state, county and city levels.

Asst. Atlantic County Prosecutor David Browne and Atlantic City Director of Public Safety Thomas B. Woolton said some of those picked up "have been found to have associations with large narcotics operators out of town."

Those arrested included three musicians, a bartender, two bellhops and a waitress. Ten were from Atlantic City and the other from Vineland.

The raids netted seven small bags of heroin worth $35. Agents, concealing their identity, were able to buy 65 marijuana cigarettes from several of the persons nabbed police said.

Browne and Woolton said that of those arrested yesterday, five were charged with sale and possession of narcotics, two with possession, and four with using the drugs.

The narcotics cases will go before the grand jury soon, the two officials said, adding that the prosecution would ask for severe penalties "in order to effectively break up the traffic in Atlantic city and county, a goodly portion of which is the result of summer visitors who introduce narcotics locally."

Town Is Included
No further steps were made until 1765 after a compromise was effected early in that year with James Agnew and Robert McPherson acting as representatives of a committee of settlers.

The manor was separated by a narrow strip of land on the south from Carroll's Delight, a 5,000-acre tract in Maryland.

The southern boundary was on the Mason-Dixon line and the northern line generally is believed to have crossed a mile or two north of Gettysburg, thus including parts of Cumberland and Straban Twp. north of the county seat.

The manor furnishes the name for the Manor of Maske chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists here and members of that chapter have been interested in having the boundaries of the manor marked.

CHICAGO (AP)—Michael Meegan, 42, told Municipal Judge Oscar S. Caplan yesterday that he stole five pounds of coffee from a store because he had been drinking and needed something to sober him up. Judge Caplan sent him to the city jail for 15 days.

2 PROMISE AID TO COAL FIELDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Martin and Duff, Pennsylvania Republicans, have promised aid for relief of the hard-hit soft coal areas of Pennsylvania.

The senators told a delegation from Washington County, Pa., yesterday, of their efforts to secure sole use of American coal on foreign aid shipments and to curb imports of residual fuel oil.

The delegation included Francis J. Pettit, chairman of the county board of commissioners; William J. Lane and John Mazza, members of the board, and Board Solicitor Michael J. Hanna.

A delegation from Bradford County, Pa., also visited the senators seeking support for an appropriation in the next congressional session to start work on a flood control program.

An aide to Sen. Martin said engineer plans for the work will be completed in October. He said the Bradford Flood Control Authority wants an appropriation of about 2 million dollars to start construction.

The delegation was headed by Frank McVeigh, executive director of the Bradford Flood Control Authority.

No further steps were made until 1765 after a compromise was effected early in that year with James Agnew and Robert McPherson acting as representatives of a committee of settlers.

The manor was separated by a narrow strip of land on the south from Carroll's Delight, a 5,000-acre tract in Maryland.

The southern boundary was on the Mason-Dixon line and the northern line generally is believed to have crossed a mile or two north of Gettysburg, thus including parts of Cumberland and Straban Twp. north of the county seat.

The manor furnishes the name for the Manor of Maske chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists here and members of that chapter have been interested in having the boundaries of the manor marked.

DOUBLE CURE
CHICAGO (AP)—Michael Meegan, 42, told Municipal Judge Oscar S. Caplan yesterday that he stole five pounds of coffee from a store because he had been drinking and needed something to sober him up. Judge Caplan sent him to the city jail for 15 days.

Recent studies indicate that most meteors are porous, fragile bodies.

2 PROMISE AID TO COAL FIELDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Martin and Duff, Pennsylvania Republicans, have promised aid for relief of the hard-hit soft coal areas of Pennsylvania.

The senators told a delegation from Washington County, Pa., yesterday, of their efforts to secure sole use of American coal on foreign aid shipments and to curb imports of residual fuel oil.

The delegation included Francis J. Pettit, chairman of the county board of commissioners; William J. Lane and John Mazza, members of the board, and Board Solicitor Michael J. Hanna.

A delegation from Bradford County, Pa., also visited the senators seeking support for an appropriation in the next congressional session to start work on a flood control program.

An aide to Sen. Martin said engineer plans for the work will be completed in October. He said the Bradford Flood Control Authority wants an appropriation of about 2 million dollars to start construction.

The delegation was headed by Frank McVeigh, executive director of the Bradford Flood Control Authority.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Two of six top awards in the bull classes of the 7th American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland yesterday went to Pennsylvania State University.

The college won the summer senior yearling bull class with Bardolliermere 32nd and captured first place in the senior yearling bull class with Bardolliermere 40th.

The best junior bull calf was bandolier heckmere of the Hackmores Highlands, Valencia, Pa.

More than 1,000 persons attended the futuring which is the largest Aberdeen Angus event held yearly in the United States.

Dead was Mrs. Edna Jacquish, 66, of Calif. Her 40-year-old son, Roy, was injured and taken to Hunterdon Medical Center where his condition was reported as serious.

AUTHOR LISTS DO-IT-YOURSELF JOBS TO STEER AWAY FROM

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
The Associated Press

I know that everybody today is doing everything themselves. I also know that the do-it-yourself field has broadened so that it now includes everything up to building your own house. I've even heard of some women tackling a home-building job.

What's more, I think doing it yourself is a fine, stimulating outlet, a challenge and that in every way it's a healthy thing.

Personally, my challenge is finding how many of these stimulating creative jobs I can get out of and—more important—when I can call in the professionals.

Already I have a pretty good idea of do-it-yourself projects I wouldn't touch with a ten-foot pole or even one of those lady-size screwdrivers.

Furnace Trouble

First, there is all the interesting equipment in the cellar, including importantly the furnace, hot-water heater and the little wheels on the water pipe you turn to shut off the outside faucets. One year a mechanically minded—and bored, I now suspect—neighbor talked me into joining him in a complete overhaul of my furnace. Not only did he wind up with many left-over parts, but it meant an emergency call to the gas company. It seems we neglected to put back some interesting metal strips called baffles.

I achieved a minor explosion adjusting the hot water heater, and I had to call the plumber to prevent turning the cellar into a swimming pool when I tackled the water pipe with a wrench which didn't know its own strength. Now the only thing I'll touch in the cellar is a big hand-

Young Countians At Penn State

The young men and women who represented Adams County at the annual 4-H Club Week activities at Pennsylvania State University this week are shown as they appeared at Penn State. One of the group, James C. Behney, York Springs, won first place in the tractor maintenance competition at the events which drew 1,100 club members from throughout the state.

Shown in the picture, front row, left to right are Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics extension representative; Dorothy Anthony, Gardners; Thelma Bentzel, New Oxford R. 1; Margaret Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2; Elaine Althoff, Biglerville R. 1; Patsy Snyder, Gettysburg R. 1; Elizabeth Dorr, Gettysburg R. 1; Dorothy Keller, Gettysburg R. 1; second row (standing), Jay Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1; Roy Weaver Jr., Gettysburg R. 4; Roger Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1; Jay Snyder, Gardners R. 1; Glenn Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4; James Behney, H. Russell Grove Jr., Gardners R. 2, and Fred Attinger, assistant Adams County Farm Agent. The Adams County dairy team secured 14th place out of 39 teams competing and the livestock judging team secured eighth out of 18 competing.

die that turns off the gas. We have not had any trouble since I removed myself from the cellar fixit hobby.

Bulbs Her Speed

In spite of the fact I have a dandy little illustrated book on the rudimentary facts of electrical life, I now limit myself to adventures no more daring than changing electric bulbs. Once, fired up by how much fun it would be and how much money I'd save, I attempted to clean and repair the waffle iron. Naturally, we haven't had a waffle in the house since, and we all remember the odd cracklings and strange smells which preceded the blown

GM DESIGNS PUSH BUTTON DREAM KITCHEN

NEW YORK (AP)—A completely automatic push button kitchen, designed to meet the homemaker's objections to stooping and reaching, has been designed by General Motors' technicians.

Wall cabinets glide down at a wave of the hand. It is not necessary to touch a push button—the mere proximity of one's hand activates the switch for this elevator.

A supply of cold water, ice cubes and crushed ice is provided by a new appliance.

fuses after I had spent a lovely day over the iron. After that I never dreamed—in spite of all the advice I've run across—of being my own television repairman.

As far as motor-driven equipment is concerned, my local garage gets all my business. When I was following carefully directions for winterizing my power lawn mower, a spark plug bit me. If that can happen, no one is going to catch me fooling around with the innards of a larger machine.

'Dreadful' Look

I know women who have a wonderful time insulating their top floors, finishing off the attic, hanging paper, painting walls, making slip covers and filling cracks in the plaster. I can work out of the same book of instructions, and the result is a mess. Wherever it is possible to achieve the dreadful look, I'm the kid who can get the effect.

I've never yet picked up a hammer without hitting a finger, nor wielded a knife without getting cut. Tools and I just don't get along. I like to garden, and I do a fine job of testing my own soil and mixing my own fertilizer, but now I hire people to rebuild stone walls. I don't think making cement flagstones is woman's work even if they are dyed pastel shades.

Henceforth I shall confine myself to knitting, simple sewing, furniture refinishing and polishing brass. Oh, and I may try working a little bit in fur. I read the most interesting article the other day about how you can stitch skins together yourself, and think of all the money you can save...

on horizontal refrigerator and food freezer—twin appliances at convenient waist height. The freezer has a frozen juice can dispenser. The refrigerator has a special egg dispenser.

All kitchen cabinets have spring-loaded, touch-latch doors that pop open with slight pressure on the front panel. Knobs and handles are eliminated.

A photographic viewer allows the housewife to visualize menus and recipes.

Electronic Sink

A double sink is located in the center of the kitchen and has an illuminated dial to indicate the temperature of the water desired through its single faucet. Its drain is electrically controlled.

Push buttons make a food mixer rise from a table top, start a motor for a flour sifter, raise ovens from counter level to a handy waist level height. The ovens are equipped with devices to pass charcoal or hickory smoke over meats for desired flavors. One oven has a removable rotisserie spit; the other is a stimulated electronic oven which will cook bacon in seconds, bake potatoes in about 5 minutes, roast a turkey in 45 minutes.

Although this is a dream kitchen, it actually works, and Mason Roberts, vice president of General Motors managing the Frigidaire division, says "some of the unusual features could be manufactured on a mass production basis and be made available to the public very shortly, if popularly accepted."

The cultivation and preparation of flax are among the most ancient of the textile industries.

Eisenhower Finds Future Economic Prospects Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared Tuesday that a recent decline in the state of America's economic health had "come to a halt" by the middle of this year. He said prospects for the future look good.

Making public an administration midyear economic survey, the President said the "recent economic decline" has been "very small."

The Eisenhower report said economic activity of late "has been higher than at any time before this administration assumed responsibility."

Good Performance

Then the President declared: "And since 1953 was a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be, it follows that over-all performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

Eisenhower said 1952 was the best year before his regime took office.

The administration survey in this congressional election year seemed certain to provide political ammunition during the campaign for both Republicans and Democrats.

Economy On Upswing

Last winter some Democrats were contending that, with unemployment increasing, the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Eisenhower and other Republican leaders challenged this. The GOP said the over-all economic activity was on the upswing.

The President said in Thursday's report that unemployment "is now greater than during the time of the Korean War."

Unemployment Dwindles

But at that time he said joblessness in recent months has not been larger than in comparable months of 1949 and 1950.

"Moreover," he said, "the rate of unemployment has shown some tendency to diminish of late. This is one of the numerous signs of economic improvement."

Among other such signs Eisenhower said, are these:

"Retail sales have been recently rising again. Business expenditures on capital expansion and improvement are continuing at a high rate.

New construction contracts are running well above the level of a year ago.

Future Is High

"Inventories have been reduced and are now in better adjustment to current sales. The financial markets have been displaying great strength. The level of business and consumer confidence in the economic future is high and improving."

The President said the economic program being enacted by the present Congress "marks a milestone in constructive legislation." He said the program, which he did not detail, will help reduce unemployment and stimulate enterprise and development in all directions.

"In the months and years ahead, we must continue to bring knowledge, cool judgment, and a concern for people to the consideration of economic problems," the report said. "In the measure that we do this, we may look forward with great confidence to the future."

M'CARTHY AND WITNESS CLASH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and a witness who refused to say whether he is a Communist denounced each other in a stormy public hearing of the Senate Investigations subcommittee Thursday.

The witness, Louis Passikoff of Schenectady, N.Y., accused McCarthy of a "conspiracy" with Passikoff's employers, the General Electric Co. He challenged McCarthy's right to question him "while you, senator, face very serious charges" in the form of the censure resolution Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) has aimed at McCarthy.

McCarthy threatened repeatedly to have Passikoff ejected from the hearing, enlivened also by a brief verbal clash between the senator and Passikoff's wife, who shouted that McCarthy was trying to "smear" her.

A great forest fire in Maine and New Brunswick burned over about three million acres in 1925.

SHOWDOWN ON ATOMIC ENERGY BATTLE TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate friends and foes of the Eisenhower atomic energy bill squared off for a showdown vote today with each side predicting victory by a tight margin.

The vote, which may help decide how soon Congress adjourns, was scheduled for early afternoon on the long-debated measure to allow private industry to produce power from atomic energy and authorize some exchange of atomic secrets with America's allies.

Opponents centered fire on a provision in the compromise bill permitting exclusive patent rights for private companies in the atomic energy field.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), one of a group fighting for a period of compulsory patent-sharing, said "I think we have enough votes to win."

"It will be a very close vote," he added, "and may depend on how many senators are present."

To Be Reasonably Close
Senate Republican leader Knowland of California said he expected to pass the bill by a "reasonably close vote."

The complex measure, which calls for basic changes in the original 1946 atomic energy law, brought on prolonged debate before the Senate first passed it last month. The version before the Senate today is the result of compromise with a somewhat different bill approved by the House.

Since the House has passed the compromise, a Senate vote in favor would send it to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature. If the Senate votes against, the bill may go back for another try at compromise and conceivably a deadlock.

Studebaker Workers' Decision Unique In Industrial History

By RELMAN MORIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Robert Milner thinks he can afford to put in the flower beds now. Robert Milner is a Studebaker automotive worker.

He is one of the 5,300-odd employers who voted yesterday to accept a cut in his hourly wages. Along with more than 7,000 other workers he went to a high school football stadium in South Bend, heard the arguments on both sides, and then made his decision.

Unique Event

It was a unique event in the history of industrial relations in America.

People in South Bend like to point out that the first sit-down strike took place here more than 20 years ago. They say that the result yesterday also sets a precedent. Local 5 of the CIO United Auto Workers Workers agreed by an overwhelming 8-1 vote to accept he wage reductions in order to put Studebaker in a better competitive position by lowering production costs.

The company has reported a loss of nearly nine million dollars for the first six months of 1954. Its sales dropped from 349 million dollars in the first half of last year to 121 million this year.

Wage Scale High

Its wage scale, an executive said, was more than 30 cents an hour above the rest of the industry. Officials told the union the company could no longer pay such wages.

The pinch began to be felt some nine months ago. This is what it meant to Robert Milner.

He is 28, married, with two small children—a son, Wayne, 4, and a daughter, Jan, 16 months. When he got out of the Navy in 1946 he went to work in the Studebaker plant.

Some Changes Came

At his peak, as a metal finisher, his take-home pay was $350 a month.

Then the change came. These things happened:

1. The automobile market changed to a "buyer's market." People began shopping for bargains.
2. A fierce, claw-and-fang sales war opened between Studebaker's principal competitors. The company was caught in the middle.

3. Defense contracts leveled off so that government millions no longer offset operational costs. The "cost plus" contracts began to disappear.

Almost over night Robert Milner found himself working an average of eight days a month. His take-home pay dropped to $120 a month. Even with $27 a week in unemployment compensation, he began going into debt.

The new wage scale, for which he vote, will mean a potential loss of $14.40 a week in his earnings.

"But if I get steady work, as they say we will, I'm going to be ahead in the long run," he said. "I'll be tickled to pieces with a steady 40 hours a week even if I don't get so much per hour."

PAIR RECREATE OLD ARTILLERY

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Artillery turned out by Dr. Harold H. Herd, 39, and this son, Howard, 15, will win no wars, but it makes a fine do-it-yourself hobby. In five years, father and son have made 20 guns of 14 models based on cannon used from 1400 A.D. through the American Civil War.

Their guns are miniatures, mostly about one-sixth original size, and Herd says they have stirred up so much interest that they may turn into a profitable enterprise.

Lathe Projects

One model of a gun from the early American battleship Constitution, was turned out from a brass bar on a lathe in a week of spare time work. Other models represent a 16th Century Italian mortar and a gun made late in the 14th Century. One of the most eye-catching is based on a fortress gun which Frederick the Great adapted to field service. Another represents a gun used at Valley Forge.

All the models actually shoot and Herd also makes the powder and miniature cannon balls that they use. One of the Herds' favorites is a model of a 12-pounder that pirates

HOT FIREMAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Some 300 of Michigan's best fire fighters were registering for the 24th annual state Fire College when someone smelled smoke. While scores of firemen stood around, a woman registrar ran up to Jacob H. Hohmann Jr., assistant fire chief of Bay City, Mich., and put out the fire. His shirt was smoldering from a cigarette spark.

POLITICAL BAROMETER?

TALOGA, Okla. (AP)—Two benches on a downtown street have labels in black letters, one "Republican," the other "Democrat." One observer refused to assert any party implication when he reported six people were sitting on the Republican bench, four on the Democrat and one man was straddling the arm between the benches.

liked because it was small enough to handle easily.

Howard, whose interest sparked the hobby when he was 10 years old, sold his light rifle because it is more fun to shoot the models. He fired the model of Frederick the Great's cannon at some rabbits the other day. Although he did not hit anything, the half-ounce buckshot "really made them scatter," he says.

SPOON RACK IS EASY TO MAKE

By The Associated Press
An old-fashioned spoon rack of pine in early American design is an easy project for the home workshop. It is an accessory that enables the homemaker to maintain that slogan of "a place for everything and everything in its place."

Besides it provides an opportunity to display the beauty of family heirlooms or some of those silver specialties now imported from Scandinavia.

A spoon rack designed by the Delta power tool division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co., holds 18 pieces. The sides and rack are made of half-inch stock. The back is a quarter-inch panel set in the rabbet of the sides.

Tack the sides together and cut the scroll design at one time. The racks are also tacked together for drilling on the press with a 3/8-inch drill slotting can be done on either a scroll or band saw.

Sand the project thoroughly, especially the edges, for a worn effect. Finish with a light cherry stain and follow with two coats of orange shellac.

Off on an Hour's Vacation!

To be honest with you, we're not certain where he's going. He may be journeying to a branch office of his corporation... or he may be heading home for the day... or he may just be taking his afternoon "constitutional" behind the wheel.

But one thing we know for certain. He's about to embark on a little vacation. And for its length, it will be one of the most wonderful interludes a man could hope to enjoy.

For he's about to spend an hour in his 1954 Cadillac—and here, beyond any question, is the perfect remedy for a trying day.

It will bring him physical relaxation—for his Cadillac is so comfortable and luxurious that merely to sit in the driver's seat is to rest. And the car handles and steers with such complete effortless that every mile is a tonic for the body.

It will bring him mental refreshment—for the car is such a joy to drive and ride in that a man seems almost automatically to leave his cares at the curbside. And it will bring him renewed enthusiasm and interest—for every moment a man spends with his Cadillac serves as a stimulating reminder of his past accomplishments—and acts as a wonderful inspiration for planning and thinking out the future.

All this, of course, is the very essence of Cadillac value. All cars offer transportation—and varying degrees of satisfaction. But it remains for Cadillac to provide a definite therapeutic for the mind and body of a work-weary man.

In this glorious respect, there are simply two types of cars: Cadillacs and all the others.

Come in sometime—when life has grown stale with the toil of the day—and take an hour's vacation in a 1954 Cadillac.

It will be the most refreshing sixty minutes you ever spent on the highway—and we'll be delighted to provide the car at any time!

BANK CASHIER IS INVOLVED IN HUGE SHORTAGE

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—Stunned residents declined to discuss publicly today the arrest of one of Fairmont's most prominent citizens in connection with a $511,000 bank shortage.

The FBI arrested yesterday John W. Meredith, 50, cashier of the First National Bank in Fairmont. Fred Hallford, special agent in charge of the FBI's Pittsburgh office, said the arrest came only a few hours after his office was notified of the shortage by federal bank examiners.

Meredith was not charged with taking the money, but only with making false entries in the bank's ledgers and other records.

A source within the bank who wished to remain anonymous said "there is no indication of any embezzlement or defalcation in the matter thus far."

Posts $20,000 Bail

Hallford declined to comment on this suggestion the banker had not benefitted personally from misuse of funds.

Meredith was taken into custody at his home in an exclusive residential section where he lives with his wife and daughter, a Fairmont school teacher.

He waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner L. T. Eddy and was released under $20,000 bond, which was posted by his friends.

Eddy said the case would be presented to the Marion County grand jury which convenes the week of Sept. 6.

Meredith's arrest was authorized by U. S. District Atty. Howard Caplan and in the warrant the cashier was charged specifically with misusing a total of $25,550.20 in four separate instances.

Caplan said there was no explanation at present concerning the discrepancy between the smaller sum and the alleged $511,000 shortage.

He said, however, that the smaller sum was sufficient to institute

SELF-DISCIPLINE

FOR GROWTH

Key Verse: If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. Matthew 16:24

From strength to strength go on, Wrestle and fight, and pray; Tread all the powers of darkness down, And win the well-fought day.

A steady growth of the Christian life requires continuous conflict. In part it is a contest with the surroundings in which we live. But the principle struggle is with one's self. So, the contest of which we are thinking is not a competition with others but a competition within.

The Apostle Paul was a great personality; one of the few really great men of all time. He did not attain the robust character we know him to have been without a constant struggle with himself. He wrote to the Romans: "When I would do good, evil is present with me. O wretched man that I am!" Let no one despair if the going is hard and the struggle severe for the reward is eternal life. A condition of a disciple is to take up his cross, as did Jesus and deny himself.

Paul may not have attended athletic games but he knew what was required of athletes. And he knew how to draw illustrations from the games for letters he was writing to Christians who needed counsel and encouragement. Once in five years great games were held at Corinth. Included were wrestling, boxing, running, and discus-throwing; all strenuous events. The meets remind us of the Olympics of our day. When writing to the Corinthian Church Paul made allusions to the games. His readers would readily understand his language and the meaning he wished to convey. One paragraph is particularly striking (I Corinthians 9:24-27). Then as now stress was laid on proper training. Many items enter into a schedule which athletes are obliged to follow. Perhaps the most important is self-discipline. Paul calls it "self-control in all things." Anyone who hopes to excel in a sport knows how necessary it is to keep "in training." That is true in the Christian life as well as in games. Paul tells how he keeps in training: "Well, I do not run aimlessly, I do not box as one beating the air; but I pummel my body and subdue it lest after preaching to others I myself should be disqualified." The Apostle returned here to a thought already expressed. His real foe is in himself, consequently he pummels himself. In this unending combat he looks to Christ, by the Grace of God, to make him victorious.

"Let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me" is Christ's requirement of any who would be numbered among his disciples. And there were many in those early years of the church. They practiced self-denial. It was one of the evidences that they were Christian. Matthew gave up a paying business. Fishermen left their fishing nets and faced a precarious living as they joined the Galilean and his faithful few. Sharing food and goods, even to the point of self-denial, with those in need was the common practice. The pioneers of the Christian faith were courageous folk. Many of them died a violent death for their out-spoken loyalty to Jesus. But they experienced a sense of joy as they endeavored to follow in his foot-steps; even when it became evident that their Master would lose his life. They grew more fearless in their witnessing after his death on the cross; they bravely faced their own crosses. Our day brings us similar challenges. Can we, for the sake of Christ and his cause, so discipline ourselves, that we may grow in grace and testify to the saving Gospel? (Based on the outlines prepared by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

Ebbets Field was the home run nitter's favorite National League park in 1953. The sluggers hit 192 homers there.

Umpire Dusty Boggess of the National League owned the Muskogee, Okla., team of the Western Association in 1932.

The Men's Bible Class of St. James Sunday School

Will Visit the Lutheran Church, Taneytown, Md. SUNDAY, AUGUST 15

CONRAD K. KROUT, East Berlin WILL TEACH THE CLASS. All Desiring To Attend, Meet Promptly At St. James Church 8:30 O'clock A.M.

THE GREATEST WEAPON AGAINST COMMUNISM

A victim of an Iron Curtain Country escaped and found refuge in the United States.

In America he worked where he liked. He went to and from town, or crossed state lines as he wished. Never was he stopped and asked for "papers." Never were his belongings searched or confiscated. Never, when he went to bed at night, was he haunted by the fear of being torn ruthlessly from home and loved ones to be sent away forever.

Yet these things are happening right now in his native country.

"Abroad, there is terror in many hearts," said this refugee, "that you Americans cannot understand because you have never experienced it... and God forbid you ever shall."

"This above all you must remember: The greatest weapon you have against Communism is your Bible and your Religion."

In other words, American Citizen, "Go to the church of your choice this Sunday—and every Sunday. Keep Christianity thriving. It's your mightiest weapon against the dark devices of Communism."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the

EVEN GRANDAD USED GADGETS IN HIS TIME

CINCINNATI (AP)—If you want a shiny new lock for your front door or some hardware for your new metal windows, Walter Hartke will sell them to you in his store. But he is never too busy selling the latest gadgets to show you around his private museum devoted to the beginnings of mechanized America.

He's been collecting such items since 1939 when he saw a museum display.

"I realized I had things like that lying around so I started collecting others," he says.

His items have come from all parts of the country and are displayed in a special room back of his store. Although most are old, he also has some modern foreign items like a Japanese lock found by American troops invading Saipan and a German lock found in Trieste.

1812 Padlock
These can be compared with a huge padlock used on an American stockade during the War of 1812 and a lock taken from a door in the house, built at Bardonia, Ky., in 1750, which inspired "My Old Kentucky Home."

There is a wooden meat grinder made about 1800. Development of American craftsmanship is shown in a metal grinder using the same principle which was made in Cincinnati many years later. The manufacturer is still in business, but has no record of manufacturing the metal grinder which bears his name. The beginnings of modern bank vaults which can be opened only through the cooperation of two or more men are seen in an old lock of uncertain date which required two keys, one to operate the tumblers and the other to retract the bolt.

Heavy Irons

Keeping house requires a lot of muscle in the old days, Hartke's collection indicates. Some of the ironing devices weigh many times as much as modern electric irons. There is one that was heated by burning charcoal and another which took pieces of hot metal into its interior.

Hartke says he has never attempted to place a value on his collection and admits that the exact age of many items are unknown.

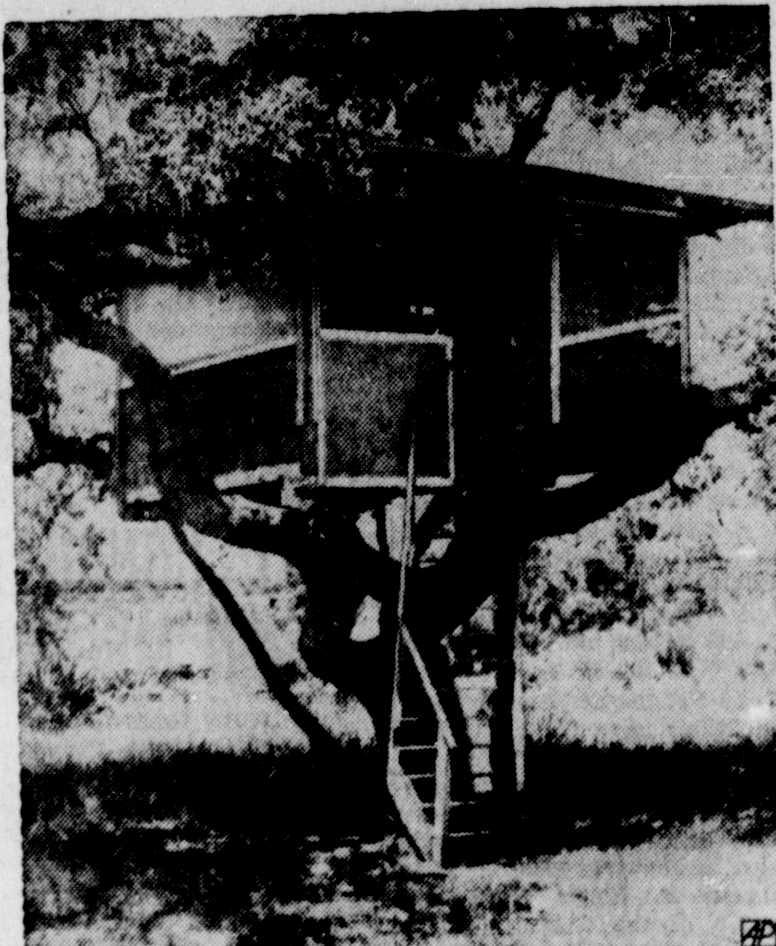

"You just have to wait until someone says, 'Oh, yes, my grandmother had one of those and she was married in 1840.' Then you can figure out some idea of the age."

Sometimes the old hardware has amusing implications. One lock is operated by a set of buttons. If you press the buttons correctly, the lock opens, otherwise a gong sounds inside the house. And the combination can be changed easily. It might be changed by a wife whose husband tried to sneak in late at night when she was asleep, Hartke says.

"What a horrible thing to have on the door at home," replied one visitor.

"I'm told it never was very popular, and maybe that's the reason," says Hartke.

HARRIS LOVES TO TOSS STONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—He doesn't own a ouija board or a crystal ball, but Bucky Harris is smiling these days over a prediction he made in spring training at Orlando, Fla.

The manager of the Senators picked young Dean Stone, south-paw hurler, as his best rookie. So far Stone has come through according to Harris' forecast. By July 4 he had a 7-1 record, the best on the Washington staff, and was named to the All-Star team by Casey Stengel.

Good In Clutch

In the spring Harris said: "Stone has demonstrated a lot of courage with some fine clutch pitching. He has the size I like in a pitcher. He's 6 feet 4 and weighs 205. The boy is only 23 and he has the enthusiasm and willingness that I like in a young ball player."

"Keep this boy in mind; he's got the ability."

Last season with Chattanooga (Class AA) of the Southern Assn. Darrah Dean Stone fanned 107 in 165 innings. In 1952 with Charlotte of the Class B Tri-State League the big lefthander pitched two no-hitters.

Any wonder Bucky is all grins when someone says "a stone's throw from home plate?"

Pantelleria Still In Ruins From War

Five hundred miles south of Rome a mountain of rock climbs out of the Mediterranean Sea like a geological mistake. A boat stops there twice a week, if the weather is good, and if there's nothing more important to do.

The island's name is Pantelleria. Remember?

In 1943, Allied aircraft bombed Pantelleria until its houses were dust and its mountain seemed ready to crumble. On the sixth day, short of food, water and ammunition, the Italian commander surrendered. The Allies landed and pronounced Pantelleria 92 per cent destroyed.

Now it is not only forgotten, it is desperate. For 10 months the 11,000 islanders, have not paid taxes. There is no money. For the past seven months the municipal employees have not been paid. The island is still a rubble. Eighty per cent of its buildings remain in ruins.

Tommy Jackson, before his recent fight at Madison Square Garden, explained why "708" was written in indelible ink on both his hands. "That's my hotel room number," he said.

SENATE TO PAY FOR ATTORNEY FOR M'CARTHY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) won today in his appeal for the Senate to pay the salary of an attorney to represent him in an investigation of his official conduct.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the special committee which will conduct hearings on a censure move aimed at McCarthy, announced the decision. He said McCarthy will be allowed to select the lawyer.

Watkins said the arrangement has the approval of Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader; Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee.

No Hints Given

The development came as members of the subcommittee which investigated McCarthy's bitter row with high Army officials said they hoped to release their report next Wednesday or Thursday.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who presided over those 36-day hearings, and Senators Jackson (D-Wash.) and Dirksen (R-Ill.), who are serving as a committee to draft a tentative report of findings, declined to give any hint of the "verdict."

But Mundt told reporters the subcommittee's seven members met behind closed doors yesterday, and "there were no important cleavages of opinion."

McCarthy Busy

Meanwhile it was learned McCarthy has been gathering ammunition for a resumption of his investigations of the Army, as soon as he can get them started. Informants said this will be after the Mundt subcommittee reports and Watkins' six-man committee gets through with its hearings, due to start Aug. 30.

Watkins expressed doubt that the committee would be interested in a published report that McCarthy may soon be billed for additional federal income taxes. The Internal Revenue Service declined comment on the report, published yesterday by the Washington Evening Star.

McCarthy denounced as "belabored" the Star's story that the Internal Revenue Service was getting ready to bill him for about $25,000 of income taxes and interest for the years 1946 through 1952.

Teen-Agers Plan Final Stage Of 4,700-Mile Boat Journey

NEW YORK (AP)—Two teen-aged boys from Pennsylvania sat in their 19-foot motorboat in the shadow of New York's skyline today planning the final stages of a nearly-completed 4,700-mile motorboat trip.

They are Frederick (Frick) Meyer, 17, and Michael Mitchell, 16, who will be seniors this fall at Bradford (Pa.) High School. They chugged into New York Harbor yesterday on the final leg of an adventurous trip.

They set out from East Brady, Pa., June 23 in a boat with a 60-horsepower engine. It lacks a cabin but they improvised sleeping quarters of canvas on deck.

Down The Mississippi
They went down the Allegheny River to Pittsburgh, then down the Ohio and Mississippi to New Orleans. They bucked the open water of the Gulf of Mexico to Florida's western coast, then crossed Lake Okeechobee to the Florida east coast. They followed the intercoastal waterway to New York, where they tied up in the Hudson River at 79th st.

Neither one of the boys are exactly old salts.

"Mike sailed summers at his family's summer home on a lake," Meyer explained. "Myself, I'm just a landlubber looking for adventure."

Going Up Hudson
There weren't too many mishaps, they reported. They bent a propeller on an Ohio River sandbar. And in the Gulf they found themselves adrift on heavy seas during a squall.

"If we did it again," Meyer said, "we'd use a bigger boat to get out of the salt spray. We got pretty wet in the Gulf when spray whipped into the boat. But for its size, this boat can't be beat. It's terrifically seaworthy."

They said the trip cost about $600 between them.

From here they plan to follow the Hudson River and canals to Lake Erie where they will end their trip at Dunkirk, N. Y. They figure this will take about a week and they expect to be back in Bradford in plenty of time for school early next month.

Teachers and Lawyers
The parties accepting invitations to appear range from farmers and labor organizations to school teachers, lawyers and social welfare groups.

Myers said he expects suggestions to be received at the hearings to be "very helpful."

Myers will call a meeting of the 15-member committee to draw up plans of the platform following the public hearings. The content will not be disclosed, however, until the entire Democratic committee has had an opportunity to pass on the matter Sept. 8.

That is the date on which the state committee gets together here for a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner at which Adlai Stevenson, 1952 presidential candidate, will be the principal speaker.

The schedule for the hearings: Tuesday: Pennsylvania State Education Assn., Pennsylvania State Nurses Assn., Eastern State Milk Producers Assn., Eastern Milk Producers Assn. and Farmers Protective League, Pennsylvania State Council for FEPC, Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, State CIO Council, United Steelworkers, American Jewish Congress.

Wednesday: Chester County Farmers Group, Perkiomen Valley Assn., Americans for Democratic Action, National Assn. for Retarded Children, Philadelphia Teachers Union, State Medical Society, Pennsylvania Bar Assn., Young Farmers of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania Citizens Committee on Migrant Labor, United World Federalists.

The First Step...

As baby takes his first step, parents watch breathless with suspense. "First steps" are SO important, all through life. The first step toward financial independence, for instance. This generally means opening a savings account and setting up a regular program of deposits every pay-day. Keeping everlasting at it is equally important, of course. But first you must START. Why not take that "FIRST STEP" today?

BILL TO OUTLAW COMMUNISTS IS OK'D BY SENATE

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Unanimous Senate passage of a bill to outlaw the Communist party confronted GOP House leaders today with the politically tricky question of what to do with it in the face of administration opposition.

The Senate's action, taken at a session yesterday that had many a head spinning, gave an ironic twist to the administration's efforts to drive some anti-Communist measures through Congress in the closing days of the session.

With time running out for many of the proposals urged by Atty. Gen. Brownell, the Senate unexpectedly whipped through something he not only hadn't asked for but had consistently opposed. Appealing Measure

Democratic senators, led by Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota, came up with an anti-Communist measure that proved to have an irresistible appeal to lawmakers in this election year.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) told his colleagues just before the vote what every other senator knew — that there were "political implications in this atmosphere."

The Senate started off its topsy-turvy day with a bill by Sen. Butler (R-Md) aimed at wiping out Communist-dominated labor unions and wound up by tacking it, in modified form, on to Humphrey's bill as an amendment. Humphrey had succeeded in substituting his bill for Butler's.

The result was a combination measure that would outlaw the Communist party and also would strip Communist-dominated labor unions of the right to be certified as bargaining agents by the National Labor Relations Board.

It passed 85-0, leaving the next move up to the House. No hearings had been held on it. There had been no formal discussions of it. It was dropped into the debate like a bolt from the blue.

Sounded Anti-Red
Butler said Humphrey's real purpose was to kill off his bill. Humphrey countered that the way to meet the Communist menace was head on.

"Why saw off the branches?" he asked. "Let's strike at the trunk." Republicans found themselves in a position where they either had to vote for outlawing the Communist party or explain why they had rejected a bill that at least sounded more anti-Communist than anything they had proposed.

The upshot was that, after some revisions in both the Humphrey and Butler bills and the wedding of the two together, not a single senator voted against passage.

HE LIKES SHIPS

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — In the daytime Paul Bogdan is a storekeeper at the Norfolk Naval Supply Center but at night he is an admiral. He has whittled a fleet of full-rigged ships in model size.

He began the hobby in 1941 while in, of all institutions, the Army.

RAIL CO. FILES TO BOOST FARES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Harrisburg Railways Co. would boost its base fares from 10 to 15 cents, effective Sept. 12, under a new rate schedule filed with the Public Utility Commission.

The company sought commission approval yesterday for the increase in annual revenue of $120,000.

The proposal also provides for use of 12½-cent tokens and a 10-cent school fare.

Zones Reduced
Present five-cent zone fares would be retained under the proposal, but the number of zones would be reduced from six to five.

The company told the PUC it needed the additional revenue to offset the effects of a recent wage increase for its bus drivers.

The wage increase ended a 90-day strike.

COUNCIL DROPS GOP TAX BOARD IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia City Council has abolished the Board of Revision of Taxes, the last large Republican stronghold in the city's government.

The vote was 12 to 2 yesterday with Republican Councilmen Louis Schwartz and William M. Phillips dissenting. Two Democrats were absent.

The measure becomes effective 30 days after it is signed by Democratic Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. A court appeal is almost certain.

Assessment And Appeal

The board, headed by William F. Meade, former GOP city chairman, was established to assess real estate and personal property for city and school tax purposes. It also hears assessment appeals and its members sit on boards of review, which appraise financial owners in condemnation proceedings.

Under the new bill, assessment powers are delegated to a chief assessor in the city's finance department. The appeal powers of the board of revision would be turned over to a newly-formed Tax Review Board.

four of the men in the last three months.

The convicts were said to have taken as hostage prison guard Walter F. De Adder, 29, of Lawrence.

NORFOLK, Mass. (AP) — Five dangerous convicts who broke out of the state prison colony last night after overpowering six guards and taking one of them as hostage successfully eluded a manhunt today.
